History of our School Crest

Our school logo has many elements of significance which have been chosen carefully.

The castle was once the stronghold of the great O'Donnell clan. It's legendary Chieftain Aodh Rua, and his wife Nuala O'Donnell, give our school its name.

The church of St. Patrick's reflects the special relationship between school and parish.

The open book is a sign that the school is a place where children learn and grow in knowledge through academic study.

The apple is a symbol of nurture. It expresses the hopes that our children may grow to achieve their full potential

All three emblems are contained in a sign of peace, and wrapped in a double outer circle. This is a symbol of the care and security into which all children are enfolded when they enter the school.

The school colors are blue with a red tie.

The ribbons at the top and bottom are to celebrate the pride we have in our school community and the joy we find in working among friends.
